

Victor Dijkshoorn is a Dutch landscape architect, owner of VIC Landscapes (www.viclandscapes.nl), one of the most prestigious landscape design companies in the Netherlands. VIC-L collaborates with designers, architects and executing parties for implementation of innovative concepts for integrated outdoor projects, promoting the power of greenery for a better living environment. From squares and parks to (indoor) gardens, roof terraces and other public spaces Victor's work responds to different challenges in urban and rural contexts creating sustainable solutions with high future value at various scale levels. His local and international success is based on the close connection between architect, client, project manager and the user in all stages of creating, implementing and managing greening projects.
